LITERACY POLICY

January 2019

Reviewed by the Governing Body

LITERACY

WHY DO WE HAVE THIS POLICY?

In recognition of the varying literacy demands of subjects across the curriculum, and to incorporate the principles underlying the national focus on literacy, Savio Salesian Catholic College is committed to continuing to develop strategies aimed at raising our pupils' literacy standards and developing literacy across the curriculum, thereby enhancing pupils' performance and levels of attainment and enabling them to become independent learners. In particular this policy aims to:

- ❖ assist pupils in all subjects to express themselves correctly and appropriately and to read accurately with understanding;
- ❖ assist pupils in developing the skills of speaking and listening to others and to enable them to respond and build constructively on their own ideas and views and those of others;
- ❖ assist colleagues in providing opportunities for pupils to develop writing and reading skills appropriate to each subject through the explicit teaching of these skills;
- ❖ develop the teaching of Literacy in English and across the curriculum so that pupils are competent in these skills and can use them in a variety of contexts.

HOW DOES THE SCHOOL RESPOND TO THIS?

1) Teachers in all departments will promote and develop the characteristic use of language, styles and tone of expression appropriate to their subject areas by:

- ❖ ensuring key terms and vocabulary are clear and explored with pupils to ensure that they recognise and understand them;
- ❖ identifying any particular features of key terms in order to help pupils with strategies for remembering how to spell them or why they might be capitalised;
- ❖ reminding pupils of important core skills such as skimming a text to extract the main elements of its content quickly or scanning a text for information about a key word or topic;
- ❖ making expectations clear before pupils begin a task (e.g. by revisiting the conventions of laying out a formal letter, the main features of writing persuasively, the features of discursive writing for an essay on the causes of global warming or the conventions of writing a newspaper article about a significant historical event);
- ❖ reinforcing the importance of accuracy in spoken or written language;

- ❖ identifying when it is important to use standard English and when other registers or dialects may be used;
- ❖ helping pupils with key elements of literacy as they support them in lessons by pointing out spelling, grammar or punctuation issues as they look at work around the class;
- ❖ applying the whole school marking policy which uses common symbols to correct spelling, grammar, punctuation and writing structure and by using a common approach to correct the spelling of key words.
- ❖ encouraging pupils to keep their own glossaries of key words and spellings in their exercise books.
- ❖ displaying common literacy resources that remind pupils of the parts of speech and punctuation.

2) All departmental handbooks and schemes of learning will contain specific reference to literacy strategies and the explicit teaching of subject specific writing skills, and, where appropriate, lesson plans will have a specific literacy objective which is integral to the lesson (MC, HODs).

EVALUATION AND MONITORING

- ❖ A noticeable reduction of mis-spelling and of incorrect use of high frequency words should be evident in the pupils' work (SLT, HODs).
- ❖ There will be evidence of greater opportunities for extended writing (where appropriate) in pupils' exercise books (MC, SLT, HODs).
- ❖ There will be evidence of higher level questioning and deeper thinking skills in observed lessons (SLT, HODs).
- ❖ Pupils' work and improving literacy will be celebrated on display boards around the school (HODs).
- ❖ Literacy will be monitored as part of the departmental review and performance management programme (SLT, HODs).
